Autumn term—Week 12

After a really productive training day, we have finished another week of great learning. This week I have:

- seen children grapple with ratio work
- listened to children suggest medieval insults to throw at the Green Knight using parenthesis
- watched children explore the magic of Lucy walking through the wardrobe
- seen excellent maths work supported by practical equipment.

Despite the restrictions and routines, children have done some wonderful learning this week to be proud of. This week we have also gathered pupil opinions about school. You will receive more information about this shortly, but I thought I would share that the most common value children see in school is 'Be You', reflecting how we value pupil's individuality, as well as being part of the whole school community.

Assessment Week

Next week in school, children in all year groups will be undertaking assessments to help gauge how much progress they have made since returning to school. We will keep these assessments as relaxed as we can while trying to ensure children do their best. We will use assessment scores, children's work and our knowledge of them as young people to make an accurate judgement. At the end of the term, you will receive this information via a short report.

Happy Birthday! Today was our first birthday party for children who have had their birthday in September, October and December. In total, 59 children have been celebrated today and it was lovely to see
